

Support for the international dissemination of research outcomes, 2016
(Under the MEXT Program for promoting the enhancement of research universities)

Seminar series

Seminar on Journal Article Submission

Date & time: June 7 (Tue.), 15:00 ~ 16:20 (open 14:30)

Venue: Hankyu Railway & Sanwa Bank Hall, Icho Kaikan 3F, Suita Campus

Organized by: URA Project, Office of Management and Planning

Cooperation: Cactus Communications K.K.

Speaker: Mary Nishikawa, MA, ELS (Cactus Communications K.K.)

After receiving her master's degree in Biochemistry, she worked as a bench scientist at Hoffmann-La Roche in New Jersey. She moved to Japan, later transferring to the local branch of the company, and worked there for 10 years as a document reviewer and editor and established an English training program. After that, she worked in documentation and knowledge management for an engineering company, and then worked as project manager, editor, medical writer and foreign news analyst at the Medical Tribune. Now at Cactus, she travels in Asia and Japan, teaching what she has learned over the years, and because of that, her seminars and workshops are very popular among researchers in Japan.

- Contents:
- Peer review criteria
  - How to respond to review comments
  - How to write a good cover letter

* The seminar will be held in English.

Open to: Academic staff, research fellows, graduate school students, and research administrators of Osaka University

* Especially those who are planning to publish research articles in international journals

Capacity: 250

Pre-registration is required:

<http://osku.jp/c035> (open until: June 6, 17:00)

URA Project,
Office of Management and Planning
<http://www.ura.osaka-u.ac.jp>
writing-seminar@lserp.osaka-u.ac.jp

