

Seminar on Slide Design & Polishing Presentation Skills

Co-organized by:

Research Management and Administration Section, Office of Management and Planning

Department of Teaching and Learning Support, Center for Education in Liberal Arts and Sciences

大阪大学
OSAKA UNIVERSITY

July 8th, 2016 (Friday)

Multi-media Hall, Center of Medical Innovation and Translational Research, Suita Campus

Open to: Academic staff, administrative staff, and research fellows of Osaka University

Capacity: 80 for each part; can attend both or either of the 2 parts

Part 1 - Rules of Slide Design

13:00 ~ 15:00 Open 12:30

Speaker: Yu Urata, Specially Appointed Associate Professor
Department of Teaching and Learning Support, Center for Education in Liberal Arts and Sciences

- Contents:
- Rules of and tips for creating visually well-designed presentation slides
 - Examples on how to visualize your research contents, make easy-to-follow charts/graphs, choose appropriate fonts, and etc.
 - Pair discussion on points of improvement using real slides
 - The lecture will be delivered in Japanese. However, the contents will be useful for designing slides no matter in Japanese or English.
 - Researchers specialized in sciences as well in humanities and social sciences are both encouraged to attend this lecture.

Part 2 - Polishing Your Presentation Skills: Tips from ESP

15:30 ~ 17:00 Open 15:00 for those who are planning to attend Part 2 only

Speaker: Judy Noguchi, Professor, Kobe Gakuin University

- Contents:
- This lecture will start with a brief background of the importance of presenting your research in the sciences and offer concepts and tools from research and practices in ESP (English for Specific Purposes) to help polish your presentation skills.
 - Both oral and poster presentations will be discussed.
 - Primarily targeted at early career scientists; will be useful for those from humanities and social sciences, too
 - Part 2 will be held in English. However, questions can be raised in Japanese in Q&A session.

Pre-registration is required: <http://osku.jp/b063> (open until July 7, 17:00)

Can attend both or either of the 2 parts

If maximum capacity is reached, the registration will be closed prior to the deadline.

Research Management and Administration Section, Office of Management and Planning: <http://www.ura.osaka-u.ac.jp>

Department of Teaching and Learning Support, Center for Education in Liberal Arts and Sciences: <http://www.tlsc.osaka-u.ac.jp/>

Inquiry: writing-seminar@lserp.osaka-u.ac.jp