

1

Access publications that are not included in Osaka University's subscription to Elsevier's digital journal for a lower price (papers that usually cost between US $19.95-$41.95 can be accessed for just 1,000 Yen)

Available to: Osaka University postgraduate and academic staff

Details and registration: <http://osku.jp/a0747>

By: University Library

Elsevier PPV (Pay-Per-View) Prepaid Service

A cost-effective way to purchase academic publications

Financial support is available for English proofreading services to help you publish in high quality international journals.

Available to: First authors or corresponding authors who are full-time academic staff (Associate Professor and below), researchers, or JSPS PD at Osaka University (a maximum of 2 papers per year)

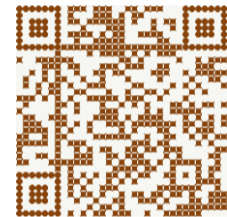

※ There are no limits to the number of papers for early-career researchers or female researchers.

Details and registration: <http://osku.jp/e0337>

By: Department of Research Promotion, Office of Management and Planning

Journal Article Publishing Support

Financial support for English Proofreading Services

2

By: Office of Management and Planning

English Language Editing Discounts

English language editing discounts for Osaka University members

Multiple major English language editing companies are offering discounts to Osaka University members

Available to: Osaka University academic staff, researchers, and students

Details: <http://osku.jp/w0229>

3

By: Office of Management and Planning, University Library

Online seminar on publishing papers

Learn how to write papers in English, Strategies for getting published, etc. on CLE.

Available to: Osaka University academic and administrative staff, researchers, and students

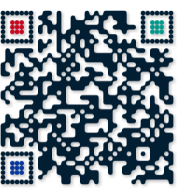

Details & watch: <http://osku.jp/r0120>

In addition to online seminars, face-to-face seminars covering a variety of themes including trends in academic publishing, open Science, new methods for disseminating research results, etc. are held each year.

Information on these seminars is distributed by email and on the homepage of the Office of Management and Planning.

4

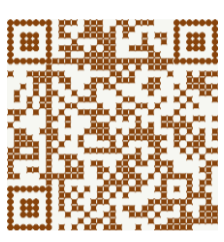

By: University Library

Promoting Research Achievements on Osaka University's Repository "OUKA" Make your article open access for Free!

Scientific journal papers and research reports on Osaka University Knowledge Archive (OUKA) is accessible to anyone for free. Simply email the library to register (the library will complete the registration process and check the publisher's copyright policy on your behalf).

Available to: Osaka University academic staff and Ph.D. students
Details and registration: <http://osku.jp/j0721>

By: Department of Research Promotion, Office of Management and Planning

Open Access Publishing Support Full financial support to publish in Open Access

Financial support is available to publish open access papers in high quality international journals.

Available to: First authors or corresponding authors who are full-time academic, researchers, or JSPS PD at Osaka University (a maximum of 2 papers per year)

Please note that application eligibility is different for Normal Stream and Breakthrough Stream. Please make sure to read the details carefully before applying.

Details and registration: <http://osku.jp/e0337>

Check out the new
"Breakthrough Stream"

By: University Library, Department of Research Promotion

Open Access APC Exemption and Discount Exemption or discount may be applied when publishing open access papers

Available to: Osaka University academic staff, researchers, and students

APC exemption: Journals published by Cambridge University Press

APC discount: Journals published by American Chemical Society, Biochemical Journal, Plant Cell, Plant Physiology, PNAS

Details: <http://osku.jp/a0266>

By: Office of Management and Planning

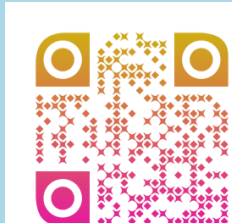

ORCID

Acquiring an ORCID ID: <https://orcid.org/>

Researchers at Osaka University are encouraged to acquire an ORCID ID (a persistent digital identifier that distinguishes you from every other researcher).

Inquiries regarding ORCID:

publication-support@lserp.osaka-u.ac.jp

By: Department of Research Promotion

iThenticate

Use iThenticate plagiarism checker to verify the originality of your research papers.

Available to: Osaka University academic staff and researchers

Details: <http://osku.jp/b0272>